

ALL PARTY
PARLIAMENTARY
GROUP FOR DEBT,
AID & TRADE

Institute of Development Studies

African Diaspora for the Development of African Agriculture (ADDAA)

In association with the

All Party Parliamentary Group for Debt, Aid & Trade

Invites you to a roundtable discussion on:

The Diaspora's role in African Agriculture & Food Security

Chaired by Alison McGovern MP Shadow Minister for International Development

Africa has the potential to feed itself, so why doesn't it?
What role, if any, does the African Diaspora have to play in this?

Come along and hear from practitioners of African Agriculture, academics and MPs on the issues.

Date: Tuesday 28th January 2014

Location: Committee Room 18, House of Commons

Time: 5.00pm - 7.00pm

Admission: Free

The event includes presentations from:

- ❖ Felix Kupay, ADDAA Chair, Introducing ADDAA's aims and activities including the general context of food security and agriculture in Africa and the need for enabling policy and legislation
- ❖ The role and unique contribution of Diaspora within Agriculture and Food Security by Karima Ola, Chief Investment Officer of ADC African Development Corporation, including case studies and projects that Diaspora organisations are delivering
- ❖ Professor Lawrence Haddad, Director of the Institute of Development Studies, On how the Diaspora can contribute to Agriculture and Food Security policy research
- ❖ Presentations on current UK Government priorities for the development of African Agriculture and Food Security
- ❖ Presentation on INGO & Diaspora partnership
- ❖ Debate and discussion: What is the role of Diaspora in African Agriculture & Food Security?

Eventbrite

Register at: <http://www.eventbrite.co.uk/e/the-diasporas-role-in-african-agriculture-food-security-tickets-10060225405>

African Diaspora for the Development of African Agriculture (ADDAA) is a policy group made up of Africans in the Diaspora whose MISSION is to increase the role of UK based Diaspora in Africa's Agricultural development; by contributing to knowledge and debate in the UK about pro-poor development priorities for African agriculture and fostering dialogue and engagement between development practitioners, policy makers, academia, the private sector and UK based Africans.

Find out more information by visiting our:

@ADDAA_UK

<https://www.facebook.com/pages/African-Diaspora-for-the-Development-of-African-Agriculture/563631403714674>

Email us : africagric@gmail.com